

‘Get your head into that book!
Reading fiction for faith.’
a Quiet Day with Revd Tiffany Conlin
at Holy Rood House
Thirsk YO7 1HX
9.45 for 10am – 4pm

Brief explanation:

A Quiet Day exploring our experience of reading novels for our relationship with the Divine.

A bit about the Quiet Day facilitator:

The Day will be led by Tiffany Conlin, who is an Anglican priest and theological educator based in Northumberland. She is the Director of Contextual Learning at Lindisfarne College of Theology, which trains people from the North East for lay and ordained ministry. Tiffany is a fledgling gardener, endeavouring to grow her own veg and herbs. She loves getting lost in novels and is currently reading her way through the entire works of one writer for the whole year!
